A description of the project, including issues identified and addressed: Newport Rd. Expansion.

Expansion of Newport Rd. near Menifee in Riverside County. Portions of the project were in mitigated archaeological sites and in unmitigated sensitive paleontological sediments. The Pechanga and Soboba were the Native American tribes involved.

Completion dates (estimated, if not yet completed): December 2006

Total fees received from services provided: $ 88,531.85

Total costs of completed projects: $ 91,240.55 (difference is reimbursables)

Description of the type and extent of Services Provided: Cogstone performed archaeological and paleontological monitoring, worked with the Native American monitors, made monitoring discoveries, performed archaeological testing at the County's request, performed laboratory work on recovered specimens, identification and analysis of recovered specimens and data and provided a final interpretive report. We also found an educational institution to accept artifacts from a 1920s trash pit after all local museums declined them.

Names of key personnel of the Respondents team that participated on the project and their specific responsibilities: Sherri Gust, Project Manager, Principal Investigator, Report Author; Steve McCormick, Report Author; Brian Glenn, Field Director for Archaeology; Amy Glover, Lab Supervisor for Archaeology; Kim Scott, Field and Lab Director for Paleontology
